

Jeff Deguire, PT, COMT, FAAOMPT, CIDN

Bio

Jeff Deguire has practiced Physical Therapy since 2006 and joined the Mountain Land team in October of 2017. After getting his Masters's in Physical Therapy from D'Youville University in Buffalo, New York, Jeff became a Certified Orthopedic Manual Therapist through Maitland-Australian Physiotherapy Seminars (MAPS) in 2013 and a Fellow in the American Academy of Manual Physical Therapists (AAOMPT) in 2019 through the MAPS Orthopedic Manual Therapy Fellowship Program. Jeff is certified in Integrative Dry Needling since 2021. Jeff's goal is to help each patient feel comfortable, confident, and respected while he delivers the best possible treatment. Jeff follows the Maitland-Australian approach to accurately determine each patient's source of pain. By using sound clinical reasoning and evaluative skills, Jeff is able to match his patients with the most appropriate treatments to get them back to enjoying life. Outside of the clinic, you will find Jeff camping, hiking, and biking with his wife and two children.

LOCATIONS

- Winston-Salem Physical Therapy

CLINICAL SPECIALTIES

Education

- D'Youville University - Masters in Physical Therapy

Practice

- APTA
- AAOMPT
- Specialize in manual therapy, spine therapy, treatment of headaches