

Kenneth Campbell, PTA

Bio

Kenneth is a North Carolina native growing up in the surrounding area. He received his B.S. undergraduate degree from Western Carolina University and then went to PTA school at Southwestern Community College. Kenneth currently resides in the Gaston County area. Throughout his time as a clinician, he has worked with a wide variety of orthopedic cases, post-op patients following surgeries, and everything related. He has a background as a trainer working with all populations and spent time as a strength and conditioning intern with collegiate athletes. When he's not working Kenneth enjoys exercising, hiking, being outdoors, and spending time with friends and family. Kenneth has also spent 8 years competing in the world of strength sports as a competitive powerlifter.
