ORTHOCAROLINA ADDS NEW PHYSICIANS TO MONROE AND UNIVERSITY OFFICES AND HIP & KNEE CENTER

Drs. Briones, Segebarth and Sheth Join Region's Leading Orthopedic Practice

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (Sept. 1, 2010) – OrthoCarolina, the region's leading orthopedic practice, today announced the addition of Drs. Marcus Briones, Bradley Segebarth and Neil Sheth. Dr. Briones joins the Monroe office, Dr. Segebarth joins the University City office and Dr. Sheth joins the Hip & Knee Center at the Uptown campus.

“The diversity in specialties of each of these new physicians, from hip and knee to spine and upper extremity, will enhance our offices across the region to better serve our patients,” said Dr. Dan Murrey, chief executive officer of OrthoCarolina. “Drs. Briones, Segebarth and Sheth join a practice of accomplished surgeons and active researchers who continually work together to provide our patients with excellent orthopedic care.”

Dr. Briones earned his bachelor's degree at University of Richmond in Richmond, Va., and a graduate degree at University of Virginia in Charlottesville, Va. He earned his medical degree at Medical College of Virginia of Virginia Commonwealth University in Richmond, completed his residency at Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston, S.C., and completed his upper extremity surgery fellowship at Triangle Orthopaedic Associates in Durham, N.C.

Dr. Segebarth earned his bachelor's degree at University of Kentucky in Lexington, Ky., and earned his medical degree at University of Kentucky College of Medicine. He completed his residency at Vanderbilt University Medical Center in Nashville, Tenn., and completed his fellowship in spine surgery at OrthoCarolina.

Dr. Sheth earned his bachelor's degree at University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia and earned his medical degree at Albany Medical College in Albany, N.Y. He completed his residency at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia and completed his fellowship in adult hip and knee reconstruction at Rush University at Midwest Orthopaedics in Chicago.
