

Jeffrey Dabkowski, PA-C

Bio

Jeff has been working as a PA at OrthoCarolina since 2012. He specializes in Sports Medicine, seeing patients at our Sports Medicine Center in Charlotte, NC. His specialties include seeing injuries, especially in the athlete, of the hip, knee, and shoulder. He has a passion for hip impingement and arthroscopic hip surgery and recovery. He also provides diagnostic and therapeutic ultrasound-guided injections of the hip joint.

P: 704-323-3000

Patient Rating:

5 out of 5 Stars

He covers the athletes in all sports at Davidson College as the head PA on their medical staff. He practices with Dr. Kenneth Durham Weeks, who is the head team physician for Davidson College Athletics and Assistant Team Physician for the Carolina Panthers. Outside of work, he enjoys spending time with his family, traveling all over the world, and is an avid college and professional sports fan.

LOCATIONS

- Sports Medicine Center

CLINICAL SPECIALTIES

Education

- University of Massachusetts Amherst - Bachelor of Science
- University of Massachusetts Amherst - Master of Science
- Northeastern University, Boston, MA - Master of Science in Physician Assistant Studies
- Yale University School of Medicine/Norwalk Hospital - Physician Assistant Surgical Residency